

INTRODUCTION TO SOLAR ENERGY UTILIZATION

FALL SEMESTER 2008

UNLV EGG 150 or EGG 450

(No credit or three credits, no prerequisite)

Mondays and Wednesdays 4:00-5:15

Starting August 25

INSTRUCTORS

R. Boehm, Course Coordinator and Instructor

Others from several programs and off campus including Engineering, Environmental Sciences, Architecture, Political Science, Utilities, Business, and others.

TOPICS

Include introductions to the potential, building applications, PV, solar thermal power, hydrogen, biomass, wind, electrical power generation, fuel cells,
political issues, environmental motivations, commercial products, some hands-on

MORE INFORMATION?

Email: bob.boehm@unlv.edu